retirement of Northern Pacific preferred, the reason for foreign accommodations on a large scale bas ceased to exist.

Foreign Exchange Weak.

Both the foreign exchange and the do mestic money markets have been affected during the latter part of the week by the return flow of money from the interior and by the increased supply of cotton bills. Foreign exchange was very weak today, and bills for delivery next week were shaded below current quotations.

The market for securities has respond ed promptly and materially to the improved change that has taken place in the monetary situation. Speculators have, of course, contributed their full share to the large dealings and the improvement in prices, but they have been working upon the substantial basis of extensive pur-chases of both stocks and bonds by in-vestors of the first importance. It cannot be truthfully said that the public is taking an active interest in the stock mar-ket, but there are unmistakable signs that it is beginning to do so.

The Slump in Copper.

Amalgamated Copper is one of the few stocks that closed lower than last Saturday. A large part of its decline took place today, following the publication of reports from Washington that the Attorney General of the United States contemplated proceeding against it, presum-

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Since midsummer, and particularly during the last month, the market for securities has plainly been held in check by unusual monetary conditions, which have induced conservatism on the part of investors, and at time apprehension on the part of speculators.

A Radical Change.

This week has witnessed a radical change in those conditions. The shipment of A conspicuous evidence of the great in those conditions. The shipment of made net gains, and are reaching to new in those conditions. The shipment of nearly $8,000,000 gold to Europe, nearly all of it on a single steamer, early in the week, appears to mark the end of European demands upon this country for the settlement of extensive credits granted last spring.

There is no longer any occasion for concealing the fact that a large part of these credits were obtained in connection with the remarkable contest for control of the Northern Pacific Railway. Now that that controversy has been amicably settled, and arrangements perfected for the retirement of Northern Pacific preferred, active and strong market can be well inaugurated.

The Big People "Buils."

That the important people desire a broad and advancing stock market during the coming winter no one will dispute. More than ever at this time their interests as owners of securities are linked the market. They have created immense issues of stocks which have been added to the vast blocks they already held. These securities they wish to distribute beyond question. And it is next to impossible, if not quite out of the question, to sell stocks in a duli and declining market.

The only problem seems to be whether the railway and industrial kings will be able to accomplish their purpose. The action of the market during the past two weeks shows great strength, as has been said. This has been due largely to manipulation by these interests, no doubt. The next step will be obtaining public suppers. There are many indications that the public may be counted on. In the week before the anouncement of the Northern Pacific deal it was a heavy buyer of steeks. Again on Friday and year er of stocks. Again on Friday and yes-terday there was some buying by the com-mission houses and there were reports of much enquiry for stocks.

Trade Reports Optimistic.

Business conditions favor the large intemplated proceeding against it, presumably because of its attempt to manipulate or maintain the price of its product.

Today's market was active and strong until it was ansettled in the last half hour by the break in Amalgamated Copper. The noteworthy dealings were in New York Central at a net advance of nearly 2 points; Norfolk and Western, at an advance of 12s. Other extraordinary net gains for the Shore, 8 in Adams Express, and nearly 4 points in American Express. The weekly statement of averages of the Associated Banks was much more fvaorable than had been expected.

The Bank Statement.

The increase of over $1,100,000 in lawful copey was largely in excess of the money. Bank Reserves Increase.

The bank statement yesterday was surprise to the street. Some few peopl had been confident enough to hope for an increase in cash, but there has bee no intimation of such a heavy decreas set in the final dealings by the usual endof-the-week profit taking, which was made more pronounced than usual by the

The advances have been made where con ditions seem most to warrant highe prices. There has been little pyrotechni cal display in the "wild cat" industria issues, but a steady upward move-ment in the coalers, in the Vanderbilt se-curities, in the Southern securities gen-erally, and in the Pacifics. The anthracite and soft coal trades are both in a phenonemally prosperous condi-tion. Prices are high, and output, altion. Prices are high, and output, although larger than ever before, is not meeting the demand. The statement of the Jersey Central for the month of October, issued during the week, reflects this prosperity in a striking way. As a result of big earnings, it is entirely likely that there will be a number of increases in dividends during the coming year. But with conditions so entirely satisfactory, the coal securities generally have been the coal securities generally have been selling on a lower level, comparatively speaking, than any other group in the railway list, owing to the strike of a year ago, which prevented them from participating in the boom of last spring to any

The Growth of the South. The Southern Railway, Chesapeake and Ohio, Norfolk and Western, and Louisville securities are growing in intrinsic value with the prosperity of the South. The section is making rapid strides, but it has a long way to advance yet.

New York Central Above 170.

The Vanderbilt securities are among the nost stable and gilt-edged on the market They are selling at high prices, but this has always been the case, and at present there is the outlook for an important Vanderbilt deal to make them more than usually attractive. New York Central is selling above 170. In this case there is the prospect that there will be an impor-

Stocks That Fail to Advance.

The stocks that have failed to participate in the advance of the market have been the industrials, and for the most part these securities have held their own, or a little better. The United States Steels have been strong enough, though not buoyant. There has been some disappointment over their failure to "boom" in view of the excellent condition of the steel trade.

There is the best of reason for believ-ing that the people that have charge of the marketing of these securities desire no "boom." When the market tumbles they are supported, and when it spurts they are held back. The entire campaign in the Steels seems to be shaped with the view to making the public confident of their stability first of all. Later, when the general market begins to move up-ward in an important way, if there is to be such a movement, there is every rea-son to suppose that the Steel stock mana-gers will wish to take a hand in the game.

People's Gas Weak. People's Gas has been relatively weak. t is said that there has been selling of the stock for inside interests on a considerable scale, but of this, of course, there can be no very convincing evidence. The bear argument in this case has been the bear argument in this case has been the expectation that the taxes against the company will be equal to something like 33 per cent of its net earnings. Even if the company succeeds in preventing such a beavy tax it will be done only by an expensive fight. This has created the very general impression that a cut in the dividend rate in the stock may be necessary. вагу.

A Canard Against Copper.

The break in Amalgamated Copper vesterday was sharp and disconcerting to those that made investments recently on the theory that the decline in the stock had gone far enough to discount the poor with the prosperity of the count y and of | condition of the copper trade. The break was accompanied by a story from Washington that the Attorney General had prepared the papers in a suit against the Copper Trust. This was denied by the Department of Justice, and the news agency that put it out afterward stated that a mistake had been made, but this was after the break had occurred, and the market had closed. There was much talk of the incident yesterday afternoon in the street, and much disposition to accuse some one un-known of dirty work in connection with it. Some people were inclined to the opinion that the Standard Oil people had had something to do with the floating of the story. They said that the Standard Oil people wished to buy Copper stock as cheapty as possible before giving it a good advance. But there is no way of finding out if there is any foundation for the suggestion.

THE CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET. Onts and Corn Active, With Wheat

Rather Dull. CHICAGO, Nov. 13.-Wheat has followed n the wake of corn and oats rather sluggishly today. Buying was confined principally to shorts and the selling to commission houses on the hard spots. Pit traders were inclined to wait develop-ments before acting. Liverpool was firm, ad to Mid higher. Continental markets unchanged. The cash demand here poor.

The senboard reported 23 loads. Corn was strong from start to finish. There was also good buying by commission houses who have been antagonizing the forward movement. Sales were made FIXANCIAL.

Three most important considerations have just influenced the Standard Oil Company to invest Ten Million Dollars in building pipe lines to the Kern River field in California. which will drain the wells of The Eastern Consolidated Oil Company:

FIRST--There is a bome demand for the oil on the Pacific Coast, where factories, railroads, and steamships are using the new fuel, far in excess of the supply. Much of this oil is also being demanded in China, Japan, and India, one of the greatest fields of consumption in the world. SECOND-The oil sands of the Kern River District run

Three most important considerations are likewise influencing the public to invest in the stock of the Eastern Consolidated Company at 25 cents a share, in preference to the stock of any other company now before the public:

FIRST-Its producing wells are being drained by the Standard Oil Company's pipe lines, and the Standard Company is spending $10,000,000 to build other pipe lines which will reach oil property of the Eastern Consolidated.

ECOND-From moneys already received from the Standard Oil Company, the Eastern Consolidated has declared its first monthly dividend of 2 per cent on the investment for November.

THIRD-The development of the company is so successful and its extension so rapid that the price of stock offered for sale will advance on December 1, that period being given to enable present stockholders to increase their holdings and new investors to buy.

FACTS WORTHY OF CAREFUL CONSIDERATION:

When you are buying oil stocks it well to ascertain where the Standard Oil Company is buying oil. No field has ever made an enduring success without the presence of that great corporation, which to go both East and West; 100.000 reported at the close.

Oats were very active and strong. May recorded new high prices. Shorts, especially in December delivery, were in a state of semi-panic. On an attempt to cover their contracts prices advanced very quickly, the discount under May narrowing to only Mc. There was an urgent cash demand, especially from the East; 100,000 sold.

Provisions reacted after the lower opening because of a good general demand through commission houses as well as buying of ribs by certain packers. A large local packer led in the selling and late in the session offerings were rather light. This and the strength in corn caused the closing rally and the market rested firm. The cash trade was not as brisk as earlier in the week. There had been a marked increase in the speculative een a marked increase in the speculative trade in this market the past week. The hog movement should be the controlling influence for the present.
